

Connecting the dots

We need a trusted website:

- ☑ where people can investigate the veracity of what the politicians say,
- ☑ that connects the dots between donations politicians receive, how they represent the people, and legislation they approve,
- ☑ that presents the whole picture on legislative bills, (legislative bill filter and legislative bill mark-up)
- ☑ that tracks government waste and government corruption.

We need a comprehensive transparency that holds elected officials accountable. While there are several government transparency websites (click here for listing), there are none which connect all the dots.
